

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

Apprentice SYDNEY

Temperzone is a leading manufacturer, distributor of innovative air conditioning and ventilation products throughout Australasia, Southeast Asia, and China. We are also the exclusive distributor of Hitachi Cooling & Heating products within Australia and New Zealand. We have evolved through an ongoing commitment to best manufacturing practices, innovative design, customer service, and technology for quality delivery.

About the Role:

Are you a good problem solver, have a natural talent for maths, enjoy working with your hands? Are you wanting something with variety and have always been mechanically minded, drawn to operating, installing, servicing electrical goods? An Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration Apprenticeship could be the challenge you're looking for! We currently have an opportunity for a 1st year apprentice to join our Customer Care team through 1300 apprentice. Gain full knowledge of the industry and all necessary skills in install, service and maintenance of domestic and commercial air conditioning. Opportunity to work on many different sites for some large Australian wide companies and experiencing something new every day. The position is based in Sydney. Hours of work are 8:00am – 4:30pm Monday to Friday.

Day to day duties will include:

- Assisting with installing, repairing, servicing and maintaining HVAC equipment in residential and commercial facilities.
- Completing a combination of supervised on the job learning and theory work at TAFE.
- Working at heights and use of general hand and power tools and other industry specific tooling.

Criteria / Must Have:

- HVAC aptitude and problem-solving skills.
- Mechanically minded.
- Motivated to learn and gain new skills.
- Positive can-do attitude.
- Good communication skills and customer service experience.
- Good numeracy, literacy and computer skills.
- Reliable and punctual.
- Experience with hand and power tools.
- Good safety attitude.
- Electrical/Mechanical experience would be advantageous but not necessary.
- Clean Australian Driver's licence.

What we can offer:

At Temperzone we believe that our people are our strength so it's important to us to have the right people in the right roles to move us into the future. If you are a team player with great work ethic that shows drive and initiative along with attention to detail, you will be rewarded with excellent working conditions.

Temperzone is an equal opportunity employer wishing to increase our philosophy of the customer experience. Work for environment that values diversity, flexibility and where everyone belongs.

The successful candidate will be required to undergo a pre-employment medical and complete a national police check. Please note that only people with the right work in Australia need apply for this position.

Closing Date: Friday 10th March 2023

Internal Applications: For more information, please contact HR. To apply for the role please send your CV including Cover Letter to hr@temperzone.com.au

External Applications: Send your CV including Cover Letter to hr@temperzone.com.au

